Love is in the air here at Chillerton as the children enjoyed exchanging Valentine's cards yesterday. I was impressed with the maturity and kind generosity the children showed each other. Thank you to those of you who have come in to school today to share the exhibition of work from class 2 and 3. We hope you agree that the work is stunning and the children have been working exceptionally hard.

PGL will soon be upon us for KS2 and there will be an information evening held the first week back with myself and Mr Snow. Please can we take this opportunity to chase up any outstanding moneys owed.

We appreciate your patience with staffing in class 2 and we hope Ms Cutter will be returning to school after the half term.

A positive for the school is that we had Hampshire inspectors in to the school on Tuesday who commended the work and progress which has happened in school since Ofsted. They were particularly impressed with the quality of English going on in the school and the positive environment around school. Another positive for the school is that we have 4 new pupils starting with us after half term so a huge welcome to Ross, Joe, Amelia and Amie-Marie.

I would like to personally wish you a fabulous half term break and can't wait to hear all about it on Monday 25th February.
