RE: Music Lessons

Dear Parents and Carers,

I have been in conversation with Wight Music Tuition, who offer tuition for a wide range of instruments for children on the Isle of Wight. They have a cooperative of skilled instrumental music teachers who can teach both singular and group lessons to children within schools. Attached is a flyer with more information. If you are interested in your child/ children learning to play an instrument, this can be a good route to take.

Should you wish to know more about what they offer, or to apply for your child to learn a musical instrument, please follow this link: <https://iwmt.org.uk/apply-online/>.

Once an application has been made for lessons, the tutor will contact the parent/school to discuss days and times for the lessons to take place.

Fees are:

2021 WIGHT MUSIC PRICING	Fee per term
20 minute individual lesson	£ 122.00
20 minute group lesson	£ 80.00
30 minute individual lesson	£ 170.00
30 minute group lesson	£ 112.00

Kind Regards

Mrs Tombleson

ISLE OF WIGHT MUSIC HUB

The social and educational benefits of learning to play a musical instrument, or learning to sing are well documented, among the findings of much research. However, it is also a really good way for children to enhance their confidence and life-skills whilst having a good deal of fun in the process!

The Wight Music Tuition co-operative of instrumental music teachers is a not-for-profit organisation that works in close partnership with the Isle of Wight Music Education Hub in the delivery of high-quality instrumental and singing tuition.

Our teachers work with a large number of children and young people within the majority of island schools, providing tuition on a wide variety of instruments and voice, from key-stage 1 through to 6th form. We also teach whole classes in many primary schools, delivering the Isle of Wight Music Education Hub's 'first access' scheme, which enables every child on the Island in key-stage 2, within participating schools, the chance of learning to play a musical instrument in whole classes, free of charge for one year.

Additionally, many of our tutors provide programmes of extra-curricular music in support of schools, the Isle of Wight Music Centre, and to community music groups.

It goes without saying that all our teachers have had enhanced DBS checks carried out and have completed training in the safeguarding of children to at least level 2. But at Wight Music Tuition we believe it important to maintain the quality of service that children, schools and parents deserve. That's why we run, in partnership with the Isle of Wight Music Education Hub, a programme of professional development, to keep us up to date with modern teaching, and why we all voluntarily submit to undergo lesson observations and inspections of our teaching by experienced external assessors.
